GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: It is aga in my privilege to welcome the delegates of the National Democracy, who have met in order to present to the American people the candidates for President and Vice President for whom they solicit the suffrages of the Democratic and Conservative voters of this great republic. At our last National Convention, on the fourth of July, 1868, I predicted that the election of General Grant would result in the gradual usurpation of all the functions of the Government by the Executive, and by Congress, to be enforced by the bayo-nets of a military despotism. The vast majority of the people of the United States have witnessed with grief and sorrow the correctness of that prediction, and they look forward with fear and apprehension te the dangers which are threatening us, if, by the re-election of General Grant, the policy thus far pursued by the Radical party to continued. The thinking men of both parties have become alive to the fact that we are now living under a military despetism, overriding the civil authorities in many States of the Union that, by the enactment of arbitrary and unconstitutional laws, through a depraved rajority in Congress, the rights of these are infringed and trampled upon, States resarism and centralization are the very foundation of our Federal system, an are sweeping away the Constitutional bulwa. the wisest and best men of the Republic party have severed themselves from the Radical wing, which is trying to fasten upon the country another four years' reign of corruption and despotism, and whatever individual opinions we may entertain as to the choice of the candidates whom they have elected in opposition to Gen. Grant. There can not be any doubt of the patriotic impulses which dictated their action, nor can any fault be found of seven to report an address to the Demowith the platform of principles upon which they have placed their candidates. The resolutions of the Cincinnati Convention are what the country require and they must command the hearty support of every patriot throughout the vast extent of our land in the struggle which is before us. We must look to principles and not men, and I trust that no personal predilections or prejudice will deter us from doing our duty to the American people. Gen. Grant has been a good and faithful soldier during our civil war. His stubborn and indomitable courage has helped to crown the Union arms with victory, and the American peo-ple have rewarded his services with the ple have rewarded his services with the most unbounded generosity. I am willing to concede that his intentions on taking the Presidential chair were good and patriotic, Presidential chair were good but he has most signally and sadly failed in the discharge of the high trust imposed upon him by the confidence of a grateful people. He is at this moment the very personification of the misrule which is oppressing us, and his re-election is fraught with most deplorable consequences for the welfare of the republic and endangers the liberties of our people. On the other hand Mr. Greeley has been heretofore a bitter opponent of the Democratic party and the violent attacks against myself individually which have from time to time appeared in his journal certainly do not the national and constitutional principles of the Cincinnati platform, and by his admirable and manly letter of acceptance, he has shown that he is fully alive to their spirit, and that if elected he means to carry them out honestly and faithfully. Should you, therefore, in your wisdom convede to pronounce in favor of the Cincinnati candidate, I shall for one, most cheer-
